

PERSONAL RECORD FILE

You can be very helpful to your spouse and other survivors by simply assembling in one place copies of certain records and documents which they will need.

A manila envelope, marked to show its contents and kept in a place known to your survivors, is sufficient. Only photocopies of important documents should be placed in this envelope. Originals should be safeguarded in a more fire-proof place such as a safe-deposit box. Place a check mark (✓) in front of each item that you have enclosed:

- ____ (a) Will, with name and address of attorney.
- ____ (b) Life, property, and auto insurance policies, with name and address of insurance agent.
- ____ (c) Real estate deed, title policies, closing statements, mortgages, record of mortgage payments, tax receipts, receipts for improvements over the years, etc.
- ____ (d) Leases.
- ____ (e) Name and address of broker or the stock certificates and bonds you own (plus the purchase slips or other records of cost and date of purchase).
- ____ (f) Names of banks and savings and loans and account numbers, and the names of bank or savings and loans officers with whom you deal.
- ____ (g) List of other assets and locations (including loans, second or third deeds of trust, and accounts receivable).
- ____ (h) Safe-deposit box key, name of bank, and box number.
- ____ (i) Income tax returns for the last three years, plus name and address of persons preparing these returns.
